

A modern living room interior featuring a white modular TV stand with a flat-screen television displaying a coastal scene. The stand is set against a dark grey wall with large white curved architectural elements. To the right, a large window offers a view of a rocky coastline and the ocean. In the foreground, a lounge chair with a curved metal frame and a light-colored cushion is positioned on a grey rug. A glass coffee table is partially visible in the lower left corner. The ceiling has recessed lighting strips.
